Dear participants,

The World Congress on Snow and Mountain Tourism, which was to be held in 2020, has been postponed until 2022, according to the recommendation and the social measures imposed by the health authorities, as a result of the pandemic caused by the SARS-CoV-2.

The 11th World Congress on Snow and Mountain Tourism will be held in March 2022 in Andorra. All participants, professionals, experts and authorities, will have the opportunity to meet for new challenges.

In the meantime, we will strive to provide participants with the best discussions and exchanges of views on current issues, prioritizing, as usual, the interaction between the attending professionals and the invited experts.

The goal is to enrich our knowledge and to be aware of the newness around tourism and especially in mountain destinations, taking into consideration the current situation and the new trends that will shape our sector's future.
